General Interview & Portfolio Information for the Digital Arts conservatory

Students applying for acceptance in the Digital Arts conservatory participate in an interview and a portfolio review. Each student must demonstrate above-average ability and/or potential.

Portfolio Requirements

A portfolio reflects the prospective student's strengths, individual growth, and personal interests. We would like to see:

1. Drawings from observation (still life, self-portraits, landscapes, etc.) using a variety of media.
2. Pieces that demonstrate creativity which may include work in any media, including video, digital media, photography, three-dimensional, and/or mixed media.
3. Sketchbooks, in particular those that reflect your creative development process.

CoSA requires a review of the applicant's original artworks during the interview for the Digital Arts conservatory. Applicants often ask us, "What are you looking for in a portfolio?" Although there is no single answer to this question, here are responses to some frequently asked questions about portfolios that you may find helpful as you prepare your own portfolio.

What kind of work do I need in my portfolio?

Pick media with which you are comfortable. Computer-generated art, three-dimensional works, doodling, cartooning, video production, 2D sketches, work from art classes, ceramics, photography and works-in-progress are all acceptable mediums. Present work of which you are especially proud, and let us know why.

What is more important: technical or creative?

Your technical drawing or design ability is important, but do not overlook the creative aspect of your work. We would like to see how you apply knowledge/creativity in a purposeful way.

How many media should I show?

Try to show a variety of different mediums if applicable. The more the better; it shows your interest in various art forms.

How about presentation, work in progress, and sketchbooks?

Neatness of presentation is important - it reflects your attitude towards your work; however, your work need not be mounted, matted, framed, or even finished. We encourage you to show us sketchbooks because we are as interested in the processes by which you make your work as we are in the final product of your efforts. If you have a website, computer photo album, Instagram site, YouTube videos, or other computerized artwork, show us! We'd love to see it all.

How many pieces do I need?

Your portfolio should have a minimum of 3, and a maximum of 5 pieces included in it. You may also bring a sketchbook. Remember, offer the best reflection of what you are capable of today. Submit original artwork.

Please keep this page to help you prepare for your interview and portfolio.
